

DOWN MEXICO WAY . . . A bit of the south of the borderland came to Torrance last week with a visit to Roth's Market of Tom Aguilar's Chuck Wagon, pictured above. Sponsored by a group of food processors specializing in Mexican food, Aguilar and his two daughters served more than 2,000 free lunches during their four-day stay at the local super mart. Sampling the Mexican lunch are Mrs. Louise Chatten (left) and Pat Townsend, two Torrance telephone operators. Serving are Tom F. Aguilar and his two daughters, Carol and Ann. (Herald photo)

New Technical Courses Offered At Harbor Tech

tion courses, a metal-working machine technology course and a printing technology course, were first offered at Harbor Tech when the fall semester opened last Monday, according to Raymond J. Casey, college director.

The new two-year machine technology course, designed for students intending to seek employment as machine shop workers, will offer training in such related skills as bench operations, general machine practices, advanced machine operations, machine shop problems, gas and electric welding, and precision machine practices.

The Printing Technology course, designed to prepare students for craft positions in the printing industry, will provide practical training and experience in presswork and binding operations, offset printing, estimating, management and cost, and proofreading.

In the printing field, the local college also offers a Printing Administration and Merchandising course for those interested in employment in clerical and sales positions, in office positions, or in management positions in the printing industry.

TORRANCE HERALD ORDINANCE NO. 88
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF TORRANCE REQUIRING REGISTRATION OF COMMUNIST ORGANIZATIONS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE USE OF SUCH ORGANIZATIONS AS AN ASSISTANT IN ENFORCING SOME ACTIVITIES OF REGISTRANTS.

The City Council of the City of Torrance does ordain as follows:

Section 1:

The City Council finds that a world-wide revolutionary movement exists in the form of communism, it is by means deemed necessary, to establish and perpetuate a totalitarian government force and power, rather than upon law, in all of the countries of the world, and that upon law, even though it be against the consent of the majority of the people of such countries.

(b) The world-wide revolutionary movement is predicated upon, and is designed, and intended to carry into execution, the basic principles of communism expounded by Karl Marx, Friedrich Engels, Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, and Mao Tse-tung, which have been and are presently being interpreted and executed by the most powerful governments in the world, the Soviet Union, and those countries which are dominated or controlled by such governments.

(c) Pursuant to the objectives of the world communist movement, in numerous foreign countries, legally constituted governments have been overthrown, and ruthless totalitarian communist dictatorships established in the majority of countries of the world, the Soviet Union, and by those countries which are dominated or controlled by such governments.

(d) Consistent acts or public expressions of support for, or adherence to, such totalitarian communist governments, or any other totalitarian government, or any foreign communist organization, or any agent in whom is vested control over, or influence, over such government, or any agent in whom is vested control over, or influence, over such government, for the purpose of achieving its program, policies, and objectives.

(e) Consistent recognition of the disciplinary powers over its principal members, or a substantial number of its members, given by any foreign communist government, foreign communist organization, or any agent in whom is vested control over, or influence, over such government, for the purpose of advancing the objectives of the world communist movement.

(f) Consistent leadership, management, direction, supervision, or control of any organization, or activities by persons who, whether or not they hold office in such organization, are engaged in the management, direction, supervision, or control of the world communist movement.

(g) Consistent practice of assisting, directing, advising, or encouraging its members to travel to any foreign country for the purpose of training in the principles, tactics, strategy, and policies of the world communist movement.

(h) Consistent leadership, management, direction, supervision, or control of any organization, or activities by persons who, whether or not they hold office in such organization, are engaged in the management, direction, supervision, or control of the world communist movement.

(i) Consistent advocacy or encouragement of, in such a manner as to impair or destroy the employees or supporters of, or any organization, or any government, which is in opposition to, or in violation of, the principles, policies, and objectives substantially of the world communist movement, and the establishment of the refusal of the majority to accept and principles and demands of the world communist movement.

(j) Consistent advocacy or encouragement of, in such a manner as to impair or destroy the employees or supporters of, or any organization, or any government, which is in opposition to, or in violation of, the principles, policies, and objectives substantially of the world communist movement.

(k) Consistent advocacy or encouragement of, in such a manner as to impair or destroy the employees or supporters of, or any organization, or any government, which is in opposition to, or in violation of, the principles, policies, and objectives substantially of the world communist movement.

(l) Consistent advocacy or encouragement of, in such a manner as to impair or destroy the employees or supporters of, or any organization, or any government, which is in opposition to, or in violation of, the principles, policies, and objectives substantially of the world communist movement.

(m) Consistent advocacy or encouragement of, in such a manner as to impair or destroy the employees or supporters of, or any organization, or any government, which is in opposition to, or in violation of, the principles, policies, and objectives substantially of the world communist movement.
